...Yale Pride Flour...

made into raisin bread is one of the most tasty and nutritious foods that can be placed before growing Young America.

Wheat is a white man's food and one of his staples, but fickle childhood sometimes wants a change, and you'll find the above a good one.

Its lower price easily puts it in the economical class, which will please the bread winner, also. Mother will be pleased because all the others are.

OUR SOLDIER BOYS.

The Following is a Letter from Roy Bricker who is with the American Army Somewhere In France.

April 7, 1918.
Dear Father and Mother:

Well, this has been another wet day. Occasionally it clears up and we have a few days of fine, sunny weather. Then about the time everything gets dried up it rains again. That is the way it has been almost continually since we arrived here. Just a succession of fine weather and squalls. They started us in on another course last Tuesday and since that time we have certainly been kept busy. They have been giving it to us good and strong, I can tell you. But I'm glad to get this work as it is helping me on some things about which I wasn't very sure. And about the only way to accomplish anything worth while in any line is by hard work.

We are still getting fine meals. Occasionally we come down and get a meal. You should hear me speak French in ordering meals. I'm becoming real adept at it. When we come down town we get most anything we want to eat. For instance Flanagan and I came down for supper and here is what we had: French toast, three fried eggs apiece, beef steak which couldn't be beaten, French fried potatoes, plum jam, Chocolate to drink. Isn't that some meal? We could have gotten anything else we wanted but that sufficed nicely. It cost us about $1.50 apiece, but its worth it to get a change of eats once in a while.

I notice that an order has been issued by the postal authorities denying the people in America the privilege of sending anything over in the nature of food-stuffs, sweets wearing-apparel or anything else unless we boys "over her" have made a written request for same. This request must be enclosed in the package with the goods or it will not be delivered from New York. There is a very good reason for this because the railroads and steamers have been unable to handle the huge consignment of packages which have been sent over. At the present time in connection with every camp there is a quartermaster store where one can buy stockings, underwear, shoes, raincoats and nearly every thing one wants to wear. Then they have a commissary store where you can buy candies, cigars, cigarettes, candles, raisins, fruits, jam, cookies or almost anything you wish for less money than it can be bought in the U. S. So you can see why it is really wise for the government to make this ruling. The Americans never lived better in our lives than we can right now in our lives than we can right here from what they feed us and what we can pick up cheaply. Of course it is great to be able to watch the mail each day expecting something from home. There is always the unexpected in each package which makes it a real joy to the receiver. Nevertheless our government has a very big problem on its hands getting things over, to us and guess we shall have to forgo the thrills we receive in getting individual packages. However, that is a small thing for us to sacrifice for our country so we shan't find any fault. If anyone says anything about wanting to send a package to someone over here, just tell them to write a good cheerful letter to the party instead and it will be just as heartily appreciated by the recipient and will be doing a good turn for our government besides. Why on a recent steamship from America we are told that enough parcels post packages arrived to fill seventeen French coaches (about half as big as American coaches) and a lot of the things sent were useless to the fellows when they arrived. On package contained baby clothes. Don't see how that would help a soldier very much. Do you? Practically everything which is sent can be easily purchased here so you see how it is.

However, if anyone wants anything from home all he needs do is send an order for it to his folks who will enclose the order with the article. At New York where the package will be inspected the order will allow it to pass. Think this is a very good plan. I have not received any mail since those letters I received on my return a few weeks ago. Think it is about time I made another draw. Some of the fellows are receiving mail real regularly. Others are having troubles the same as I. So you see life in the army, the same as in private life is just one thing after another.

The Big Drive the Germans are making now does not seem to be diminishing very much so far, a state of affairs which suits the Allies entirely. Every time I have been at the front the British have always been hoping for this offensive. They wanted it to take place. They were positive they could hold the enemy and they felt that a slaughter of the magnitude which has been going on for the past few weeks was the only thing which could assure a peace acceptable to the Allies. General Foch seems to think that the enemy can be held in check. While they are doing so they are inflicting terrible damage to the foe who insists on advancing by his time-honored, close formation method. This makes them cannon-fodder for the Allied gunmen who lie in wait for them. It's just a question of how long the enemy can stand such a procedure.

Hope you people at home are all feeling well and not worrying about me. I never felt better in my life, am getting lots to eat, have a fine bed and am getting along well in my work. I certainly have a dandy bed. I sleep between that double woolen blanket you gave me I never rested better in my life than I do on my cot. So you see I am very fortunate. I wouldn't want to be in America so long as conditions do not change. But you can believe that when this war is over there won't be any train or boat fast enough to carry the Americans who are over here home and we'll all be boosters for the old U. S. A. I can tell you when we get back. Guess none of us knew what a grand land we had until we got away from home. So you see this is a wonderful experience for all of us. Give my regards to everyone.

Your son, Roy.

SUCCESSFUL TEACHERS

School Commissioner E. T. Blackney today announced the names of the successful candidates passing the recent teacher's examination which was held at the high school March 25, 26 and 27. Most of those writing the examinations were teachers who desired to maintain their present grade or to attain a better rating. A second grade certificate entitles the holder to teach in this county for three years without renewal.

Third grade certificates must be renewed every year by the holder submitting to another examination. Mr. Blackney believes teachers are going to be scarce this fall and that all the young people listed below will probably find employment in the various districts of the county. The list follows:
